The Electoral Register is a public document which can be viewed by appointment only under strict control. It is important that your records are accurate and up-to-date as they will ensure that our staff are able to provide you with the help, advice or support you need. We will, based on your nationality, include your name on the Electoral Register so that you are able to vote by your chosen method. If you do not provide us with this information, then eligible citizens will not be able to vote and you may be breaking the law.

Using information received from the public, registration officers keep two registers. – electoral register and the open register (also known as the edited register). The open register is an extract of the electoral register but is not used for elections. It can be bought by any person, company or organisation. Your name and address will be included in the open register unless you ask for them to be removed. Removing your details from the open register does not affect your right to vote. You can find out more information about both registers and how they may be used at gov.uk/register-to-vote

Who we might share your information with

If we wish to use your personal data for a new purpose, not covered by this Data Protection Notice, then we will provide you with a new notice explaining this prior to commencing the processing and setting out the relevant purposes and processing conditions. Where and whenever necessary, we will seek your prior consent to the new processing.

How long we keep your data

We retain your personal information for as long as necessary to fulfil the purposes we collected it for, including for the purpose of satisfying any legal, accounting or reporting requirements, or to fulfil statutory obligations. Full information regarding retention periods for the different types of data can be found on our website in our retention and disposal schedule.
